EHSW1228C SIX-SIDED DRILLING MACHINE

DESCRIPTION

Equipped with an automatic tool change structure, this six-sided drilling machine can realize compound processes such as lamello, side light groove, and three-in-one through its unique tool change. The double-drilling blocks $\geq 64\text{m}$ sync together, a unique advantage, greatly improving the drilling efficiency and double-drilling bay to sync at the same rate. It is fitted with a double clamp reducer transmission enabling high transmission precision and accurate positioning. With a one-piece bed, this piece has a good retention for machining accuracy.

KEY FEATURES

- Six-sided drilling machine with bridge structure processing six sides in a single cycle.
- Double adjustable grippers hold the work piece firmly.
- Air table reduces friction and protects the delicate surface.
- The head is configured with vertical drill bits, horizontal drill bits, saws and spindle so the machine is able to perform multiple jobs.
